MUTINY ON A STEAMER.

The Firemen and Stokers Plot to Take Possession of the Steamer at Sea.

One of the Mutineers Attempts to Take the Life of the Captain and is Shot.

Associated Press Dispatches.

New York, Aug. 21.—Capt. Baker, of the Netherlands line steamship Obdam, which reached this port last night, reports that twenty-four hours after leaving port on his last trip he became aware of a plot among the firemen and stokers to take possession of the ship. He went down into the furnace room and was greeted with hisses. The next day the vessel was stopped without orders from her officers. While they were inquiring as to the cause of the stoppage the chief engineer came rushing on deck stating that the men had drawn the fires from the furnaces and threatened his life.

The captain went below and asked what the trouble was, and the crowd replied with a general howl, and Peter Duzer, who acted as spokesman for the crowd, said: "We have grown tired of this life and intend to run things to suit ourselves."

After some more talk in a similar strain, Duzer picked up a heavy iron pipe and sprang at Baker. The latter drew a revolver and fired, hitting Duzer, who fell to the floor and expired a couple of hours later. The rest of the mutineers immediately returned to work and Duzer's body was buried at sea. On arrival of the steamer Baker had the mutineers arrested and gave himself up on a charge of murder. He was placed under $10,000 bonds to appear for trial, and return his vessel to port.

Shipping men are confident that he will be personally acquitted. There were 300 passengers on board the steamer at the time of the threatened mutiny.

In the Socialist Congress today Mr. Sprew, of the English Firemen and Stokers' Union, made a special address, in which he said a few weeks ago a captain of a steamer running between New York and Amsterdam so badly fed his crew that one of them became ill to work. The captain ordered him to resume work, and then shot him dead. Three hundred passengers petitioned the Dutch government to arrest him, but he was so influential that he was not arrested. (Uproarious cries of "Shame.")

A MILITARY SCHEME.

By Which the Militia in All States Will be Put Under National Pay.

St. Louis, Aug. 21.—The Post-Dispatch this afternoon says a scheme is on foot by which the militia in all states will be put under national pay and supervision.

It was started by officers of the regular army at the encampment of the state militia at Camp Wickham the other day, and circulars and personal letters concerning it are now flying thick and fast about the country.

Lieutenant Robert Evans, Twelfth Infantry, and Lieutenant Joseph Batchelor, Twenty-fourth Infantry, gave a resume of the plan to the encampment constitution.

"The Association of National Guards of the United States provides that National Guards of various states to be enrolled in the National Guards of the United States remaining under State control in time of peace, but being immediately available for national defense in case of war. The Government of any state will forward to the Secretary of War the application of any company of not less than sixty men who desire to join the association. Each cavalry troop will be paid $5,000 the first year it is organized, and $3,000 for subsequent years. Artillery will receive the same as infantry companies get, $10,000 each."

Lieutenants Evans and Batchelor said the organization would be effected by a bill which Congress will be asked to pass at the coming session.

Petitions are being gotten up in all states, and the movement is widespread, but has been kept quiet until it leaked out at Camp Wickham. The plan is approved by all the officers and men of the state militia, and also by Adjutant General Wickham.

ANTI-PHYLOXERA CAMPAIGN.

It is Led by an Educated Parisian Youth of Nineteen Years.

PARIS, Aug. 21.—The Figaro says that the Anti-Phylloxera campaign in the champagne districts is led by an educated Parisian youth of 19 years, named Lemare. He wrote a pamphlet and started a weekly paper La Revolution Champenoise to advocate his views, and to incite the peasants themselves, and to reap profits of their work instead of merchants.

The Phylloxera cry, he maintains, was invented to depreciate the value of their lands. He led the opposition at a recent meeting of the wine-growers syndicate at Germany. The agitation is now taken seriously, and the general council of the Châlons has summoned him to give his opinion on the situation.

The Gwalla is an iron bark of 1,400 tons, and arrived from Newcastle, Australia, July 31, with a cargo of coal, 100 tons of which is still aboard.

THE FRENCH FLEET.

A Gala Day in English Waters.

British and French War Vessels Form in Lines.

Tens of Thousands of Spectators Witness the Scene From Off the Shores.

Associated Press Dispatches.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 21.—Queen Victoria visited the French fleet today. At 2 p. m., when the signal to dress the ship was given, all British war vessels broke out with their bunting, flying masses of bright flags of all shapes and many colors.

The French fleet also dressed the ships, and three lines of fire ships were riding to sea, which kept them tugging as anchors, appeared remarkably powerful. The Queen embarked upon the royal yacht Alberta at East Cowes, H. M. S. Invincible being the royal salute and the crew managing the yards. Outside of the harbor the Alberta ran alongside the royal yacht Victoria and Alberta, a handsome vessel of 2740 tons, and the Queen was transferred to that larger and safer vessel.

The Victoria and Alberta were accompanied by the royal yachts Alberta and Oberone. A number of private steam yachts and several private yachts with pleasure seekers, started for Spithead in order to receive the French and British fleets. As soon as the Victoria and Alberta, flying the royal standard, entered the lines of warships, H. M. S. Campdown, a British flagship, signalled to man the yards, and with a wonderful rapidity the bluejackets swarmed up and out. When the Victoria and Alberta entered the line of ironclads royal salutes were fired from British ships, and as the royal yacht approached the French squadron the vessels composing it also thundered out royal salutes.

After passing down one of the lines of the British and French war vessels, the Victoria and Alberta returned up the shores of the Isle of Wight and entered the harbor of Portsmouth. The French commander-in-chief, Admiral Gervais, then went on board the royal yacht and paid his respects to the Queen. The two fleets remained for some time, exchanging international compliments of the day. During the evening the Victoria and Alberta returned on board their flagships. The Victoria and Alberta continued their slow steaming through the lines of battle ships, and that ceremony completed, the war ships again leaped forth on another series of royal salutes over the Portsmouth water. During the evening the shores of the Isle of Wight and of the neighborhood of Portsmouth were crowded with tens of thousands of spectators.

Smash Up on the Santa Fe.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—A smash up occurred on the Santa Fe road at the First street depot last night, in which Gov. Markham and other state officials and United States Senator Felton, Congressman Bowers and others were badly shaken up. A few were slightly injured. The special car containing the governor, senator and state officials was attached to the regular train from San Diego which was an hour late. A box car had been left on the track and the train ran into it.

The shock was violent and many passengers were bruised. The engine crushed the obstructing car into splinters.

The Work of Three Tramps.
SAN JOSE, Aug. 21.—This morning John J. Farrington, a track walker on the narrow gauge between Lawrence station and San Jose, was assaulted by three tramps near Santa Clara, and severely beaten about the person. They tried to rob him but he fought them off for a short time. One of them drew a large knife and made a number of slashes at him, each slash cutting his clothing and skin above the heart. Farrington then made his escape and notified the officers, who are in pursuit.

Fidelity Building and Loan Association.
H. W. Wychoff, General Agent for the Fidelity Building and Loan Association of Denver, has been in the city the past few days on business connected with his company. He is engaged in establishing branch companies all over the South-west and is having flattering success. Last week he organized a branch association at Tucson, and is spoken of in the highest terms by the press of that city. It will not at all interfere with our local organization as it is a national organization. It is a laudable enterprise and is deserving of success.

County's Indebtedness Incurred by Fraud.
TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 21.—A petition signed by a large number of citizens in Stevens County, was received by Governor Humphrey asking him to cause investigation into the financial affairs of the county. The petition sets forth the fact that the indebtedness of the county is $75,000, one half of which was incurred in a fraudulent way by the county officers. The petition asserts the county officers have conspired to rob, and are now looting the treasury by paying themselves illegal allowances and fees.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.
Congressional forces from Iquique commenced war operations in the south both by land and sea.

Von Moltke's history of the war of 1870 is ready for press, and is said to be a most masterly work on the subject.

An explosion of 200 pounds of giant powder at Black Bear mine, Burk, Idaho, suffocated four men in the mine and four men are missing. The cause of the explosion is not known. The missing men may have been blown to pieces. The effect in the neighborhood was terrific.

At Walla Walla an attempt was made to escape by the penitentiary convicts, by seizing a locomotive that had brought material into the brick yard. The attempt was frustrated by the bravery of Warden McClees and guards. The convicts boarded the engine, the engineer reversed his engine running it back into the yard, before the convicts could stop it. Two convicts were killed by guard Terry, thus releasing Warden McClees who had been captured by them. William Gleason and John W. were the convicts killed by guard Terry.

TWO LUCKY MEN.

One Will Make the Tour of Europe and the Other Goes to Vacation.

Tallant & Co.'s banking house, on the corner of California and Battery streets, recently drew from the Louisiana State Lottery Company $15,000, being the one-fortieth share of ticket 14,308, which in the June drawing drew the grand prize of $500,000.

An Examiner reporter called yesterday at the bank to ascertain the name of the lucky winner, but the paying teller, who was all smiles when the question was asked, replied:

"All business of any kind transacted with this bank is strictly confidential. We never talk about anything we do here."

And still he smiled, and as he smiled his smile the stronger grew.

This engine of the suspicion that the paying teller himself was the lucky winner, but further inquiry elsewhere elicited the fact that the fortunate person was a young business man on California street, the father of seven children.

He declined to allow his name to be used, but said:

"I am going to take my wife and babies to Paris next week, and we shall do the tour of Europe. For that purpose I have set aside $5000 of my winnings. With the remaining $10,000 I have paid off my home mortgage of $2500, leaving me $7500 to invest in real estate. This lucky strike has placed me beyond the reach of want. Business was against me this year, but now we are happy, thanks to an investment of one dollar. I have been buying coupons in the Louisiana State Lottery for the past three years, and the biggest winning outside of the present that I ever made was one of $10."

"I thought the thing wasn't conducted on the square, but my wife induced me to keep up my investment of one dollar a month, and the result has proved that she is better adapted for business than I am."

Horace Stevens, Manager of the Sierra Number Company, is another of the lucky ones whose name has come to light since the June drawing. He drew the one-fortieth part in the third prize of $100,000. His share is $2500.

A reporter called at his office, 320 Sansome street, yesterday, but found Mr. Stevens had gone to the mountains for a six weeks' vacation.

"He has been dabbling in the Louisiana State Lottery for a long time," said a friend of his, "and he told me that he had made a small winning in the Louisiana State Lottery. A small winning? If I had it it would put me on my feet."

SAN FRANCISCO (Cal.) Examiner, July 23.

ANOTHER FIRE.

Probably the Result of an Explosion of Coal Oil.

F. F. Titus' house under the Arizona Canal was burned to the ground yesterday with all its contents, excepting one or two chairs and some bedclothing. The cause of the fire is unknown, but is supposed to be from the sun's rays being concentrated on a coal oil can, thus exploding it and setting fire to the building. Persons should be very careful, especially at this time of year about leaving matches or any tin article where the heat of the sun will strike them. Oftentimes fire is thus started when the cause remains a mystery. We have heard of guns being set off and much damage done in this way. The sun's rays, when focused on any bright surface as tin or glass, will soon concentrate heat enough to set fire to any inflammable substance on which the heat may be reflected.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

Parnell Being Brought to Bay.

Lords Compelled to Witness the Review.

Lowell Eulogized by the English Press—Patti to Start for America.

(Copyright 1891 by New York Associated Press.)

LONDON, 21.—Parnell's letter admitting the inaccuracies of the amount attributed to Dillon's drawing from the evicted tenant's fund has been brought to a pause in the wretched controversy in the Irish Commons ranks, which really centers in the desire of each side to obtain control of the parish fund. Parnell was brought to bay in meeting out the same treatment to Dillon and O'Brien which he had already meted out to the Healyites and Liberal leaders, but he is fighting an impossible battle. This unending spectacle can have but one result—destruction of Ireland's chances of home rule. Apathy of the Parnellite organization and constant accession Parnellites to the National Federation have induced the latter organization to instruct its registration agents for election lists to make no distinction between Parnellites and McCarthyites.

Adverse weather today partially marred the Portsmouth review, but as far as the Queen was able to ensure it nothing was lacking to honor and gratify France. The Queen sacrificed a portion of her Highland holiday purposely to witness the review and further compelled the attendance of the Lords of Admiralty, who wanted to spend their recess abroad. Portsmouth authorities incurred the anger of the "jingo" press by inviting French officers to inspect our latest inventions in naval warfare under the guidance of officers competent to explain their uses. The only possible cause for dissatisfaction that the French government could entertain is the absence of Lord Salisbury, which deprives the function of foreign office approval. Radicals declare that Lord Salisbury declined this openly, to display his feelings which might be interpreted as a disregard of the Dreadnought.

French crews are disappointed that Friday, a Catholic fast day, was chosen for the chief ceremony, while on Sunday, the feast day, they are offered no kind of entertainment. It was noticeable that at the review that Frenchmen were less brisk than the English in firing salutes.

Premier Rudini, of Italy, informed the Cabinet of Germany, England and France that Italy would co-operate with those nations if combined action was necessary, but if the powers declined to act, Italy would herself send a fleet to Chinese waters to act independently and immediately, if necessary, to protect Italian subjects. The English colonial office has just consented to the appointment of a Chinese consul at Hong Kong for one year as an experiment.

The Government has notified Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister at Washington, as a result of long correspondence with Lloyd to bring under notice of the Washington government the question of improper packing of cotton cargoes for England.

In the weekly press several well known writers eulogize James Russell Lowell's genius, and express pleasure that he left his manuscripts to Prof. Norton of Harvard University, who was engaged by Thomas Carlyle's family to re-furnish Carlyle's reputation after Froude's revelations. Binskin also has appointed Prof. Norton, his literary executor.

Patti will start for America November 29. Nordica will make a concert tour of the United States on her own account.

THE TEMPE SCHOOLS.

Three Teachers Will be Employed During the Coming Year.

The Board of Directors of Tempe School District No. 3, held a meeting Thursday evening and decided to open school September 14. Three teachers will be employed this year, and as there are but two rooms in the school building proper the Board have decided to rent the M. E. church which will be occupied by one of the teachers. Prof. Allen, principal of the school, has been successfully engaged in his profession for the past ten years, during which time he has taught at different places in Alabama, Tennessee and Mississippi. He attended school for several terms at Lebanon, Ohio, and succeeded in nearly completing both the classical and scientific courses. He holds a first grade territorial certificate, and will make Tempe a first-class principal.

Miss Ella F. Garlick will have charge of the intermediate department. She taught last year at Albuquerque, is a graduate of a Kindergarten school and makes a specialty of kindergarten work. She has traveled quite extensively, and from her wide experience will draw stores of knowledge with which to interest her pupils.

Miss Anna E. Price, who will have charge of the primary department, lately came to Arizona from Sabetha, Kansas. She is a graduate of the Sabetha High School, and for several terms was a student at Washburn College, Topeka. She is a young lady of pleasing address, a thorough scholar, and will make a competent conscientious teacher. She will be a valuable acquisition to the roll of Maricopa county's teachers.

THE MINES OF ARIZONA.

Interest in Their Development Shown by Eastern Capitalists.

We are indebted to our friend Mr. Luhrs, for the following, taken from the New York Press of August 7, which shows how little has been known of Arizona until very recently, by Eastern capitalists. It also shows, however, that it is rapidly gaining prominence, and that more interest is now being taken by those having money to invest as its rich resources, and splendid facilities become known.

Isaac T. Stoddard, who, during the last decade, has influenced the investment of a large amount of capital in mines of Arizona, and is well known here, is just back from that Territory full of enthusiasm and confidence in its future. He tells me that within the last two years a considerable number of mines of undoubtedly great value have been developed there, and that Yavapai county alone, comprising the central, and, so far as known, the richest mineral section of the Territory, is likely soon to astonish the world with its enormous output of gold, copper and silver. Because of a heavy capping of matter overlying the vast deposits of mineral, and lack of railroad facilities, this particular part of Uncle Sam's domain has, until recently, been almost neglected by large capitalists. Now all kinds of enterprises are being developed, and railroad extensions and new lines are being projected to the most important mining districts."
